

Landforms

1. Use the internet to find information about your landform, using only approved internet resources.
2. Type notes in Word after you read and be sure to include the web address. Try to get at least ten facts so that you have enough information to work with.
3. Go into Kerpoof.
4. Choose MAKE A PICTURE.
5. Make a picture using a background that is the same or close to your landform.
6. Use speech bubbles or text boxes to tell some information about your landform, using your own words. The information you give should explain the basic information someone would want to know about the landform. About 3-5 facts is enough—too much and the paper will be crowded.
7. If handing this in as part of a report or project, be sure to include a print out of your sources.
